THE THEATRICAL SEASON

Opens Tomorrow Night at the Ogden, Representing Shuberts Attraction "The Lottery Man."

With everything in readiness a new clean house, enlarged orchestra, an attraction that can positively be recommended, the first offering for the season ought to be a splendid success.

Ogden is fortunate to be on the list of cities that will receive the great theatrical and musical stars this season. That the people will appreciate it is evidenced by the support given the best attractions last year.

Those who read the magazines remember last year to the "Lottery Man" and the favorable criticism it received. One thing, the name "Shubert" stands for the best in the theatrical world.

I am naturally anxious that "we get off well," as the saying goes, and that the opening night will prove a success. With such an attraction I think we can. The theatre is cool and comfortable and everything will be done to make the "first night" a good starter.

Wilton Lackey in "The Battle" and Henrietta Crossman in "Anti-matrimony" will follow closely this engagement.

ANDERSON TO FIX THE BAIL

The recommendation of the mayor that the appointment of Hagbert Anderson as bail commissioner for the city be confirmed was adopted, and the confirmation made unanimously. The mayor stated that Mr. Anderson was appointed to the place August 10, it being deemed necessary to have a commissioner to fix bail for persons placed under arrest. Mr. Anderson is the city jailer.

In a communication to the city fathers the mayor also recommended that the city seal of weights and measures, W. L. Russell be allowed 20 per cent of the collections made in his office, the officer reporting that for the month just past $112.92 had been collected. The matter was referred to the law committee and the city attorney for a report regarding the legal phase of the question.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS DECLINES NOINATION

Holden, Mo., Aug. 16.—Friction over the tactics of the Republican congressional lead P. H. Devoil of Holden declined yesterday the nomination for representative from the Sixth Missouri district given him at the recent primaries.

Devoil is a minister. He was the candidate chosen by the congressional committee and entered the race with avowed progressive republican ideas. This did not coincide with the views of the committee, and Devoil was induced to switch to a stand-pat platform. His declination is attributed to the fact that there had been wide condemnation among the voters of his adoption of the conservative ideas. A committee will choose another nominee today in Trenton.

ROOSEVELT DEFEATED

Republicans of New York Reject Him as Chairman

New York, Aug. 16.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt's name was presented for the office of temporary chairman of the Republican state committee at its meeting today, but the selection for that honor was lost by a vote of 20 to 15.

Vice President James S. Sherman was named as temporary chairman of the coming state convention by a unanimous vote, following the unsuccessful attempt to make Col. Roosevelt the temporary chairman of the convention.

Saratoga was selected as the place and September 12th the date for the convention.

After the meeting had been called to order and the time and place of the state convention chosen, William J. Barnes, Jr., of Albany, offered a resolution presenting the name of Vice President Sherman for temporary chairman of the state convention. Lloyd C. Griscom moved to substitute the name of Col. Roosevelt and also moved that the vote be postponed until later.

After much debate, the motion to postpone was defeated by a vote of 12 to 23. The resolution to make Col. Roosevelt temporary chairman was then lost by a vote of 20 to 15, following which Vice President Sherman was unanimously chosen. Mr. Griscom and Henry Mack of New York not voting.

The state committee then adjourned to meet Monday evening, September 26, in Saratoga. Commenting on the action of the committee in rejecting the name of former President Roosevelt, Mr. Scott said:

"I presented Mr. Roosevelt's name after consulting with him. The place of the temporary chairman was his, not only by virtue of his having been President of the United States, but by the signal service rendered by him to the Republican party in New York state. Mr. Roosevelt was anxious to engage in the political campaign in this state and his name at the head of the convention would have lent extraordinary prestige to the meeting and been of incalculable value to the party throughout the state. The action foreshadows a great many primary contests, as it is obvious that those voting to deny him the office of temporary chairman will have to account to the enrolled Republicans of their respective districts for their action."

"There was no question of endorsing, or not endorsing, the administration. If an effort is made to show that the choice of Vice President Sherman is an endorsement, whereas the choice of Col. Roosevelt would not have been, it must of necessity fail, as Mr. Roosevelt's views regarding the conduct of public affairs by his successor are well known."

Among the delegates voting for Roosevelt for temporary chairman were Lloyd C. Griscom, United States Marshal William Henkel, Appraiser of Customs George Wamaker, Secretary of State Samuel Koenig, Naval Officer F. J. H. Cracker, Representative W. S. Bennett and Collector of Internal Revenue Charles W. Anderson.

Opposed to Mr. Roosevelt, among others, were:

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, Michael J. Dady, former Congressman William L. Ward, former B. Little, William Barnes, Jr., former State Commissioner of Public Works George W. Aldridge, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., speaker of the state house of representatives, and Francis Hendrick, former state commissioner of insurance.

There being danger of both motions being shelved on a parliamentary technicality, Mr. Griscom withdrew his motion to postpone a vote, and Harry W. Mack at once took it up as an independent motion.

The vote to postpone was then taken and the roll call showed that the delegates stood almost 2 to 1 against postponement.

The vote to substitute Mr. Roosevelt's name for that of Vice President Sherman was next taken. The names first called were those of delegates of the districts comprising the city of New York. The delegates representing Brooklyn, over which Chairman Woodruff exercises undisputed leadership, voted against the former president, the notable exception being F. J. P. Fracker, naval officer of this port.

When the names of the delegates representing New York county were called, they were seen to be in favor of Roosevelt, those voting for him including William Henkel and George W. Wamaker, both federal officeholders. The vote of the up-state delegates, however, was almost solid against the naming of Mr. Roosevelt.

The opposition to former President Roosevelt was led by William Barnes, Jr., and actively seconded by Speaker Wadsworth and National Committeeman Ward.

Before the delegates were called to order Mr. Griscom called about him the members of the New York county committee and was in whispered conversation with them for several minutes.

He was in consultation also with Mr. Barnes and Wadsworth, and made known to them in intention of presenting former President Roosevelt's name for the office of temporary chairman of the convention.

Mr. Griscom was plainly angered at the reception of Mr. Roosevelt's name and his manner indicated that, in his opinion, the step taken would receive the reprobation and censure of every enrolled Republican in the state. The fact that a conflict was imminent between the faction led by Mr. Griscom and the so-called machine Republicans led by Chairman Woodruff and Mr. Barnes was apparent long before the meeting was called to order. While Mr. Griscom marshalled his partisans in one room, Chairman Woodruff held a conference with his adherents in another part of the building. From the first it was seen that the advocates of the naming of the former president were in the minority but the original program of present-bismarck, Mr. Griscom later explained, was to put the attitude of the opposition on record, that the Republicans of New York state might know where their representatives stood as regards the participation of Mr. Roosevelt in the political affairs of the state.

When Mr. Griscom moved the substitution of the name of Mr. Roosevelt for that of Vice President Sherman for the temporary chairmanship he made the companion motion that a vote on the choice of chairman be postponed until a later meeting. This was at once combatted by Speaker Wadsworth on the ground that the two motions were distinct and should be covered separately.

Roosevelt is Silent.

New York, Aug. 16.—Col. Roosevelt came in from Oyster Bay today and met a few visitors at his office. He then went out.

The newspapermen waiting to see the colonel to talk with him regarding the action of the Republican state committee in defeating his name for temporary chairman were disappointed in their purpose.

LAND NEAR SALT LAKE OPEN

The areas and boundaries of the Nebo and the Wasatch forests of Utah have been considerably modified by two proclamations issued by President Taft signed July 1. The changes are the result of a careful field examination made last summer by direction of the secretary of agriculture.

The Nebo, which comprises several separate tracts, losses by elimination approximately 15,122 acres, and by transfer to the Wasatch the tract known as the Vernon division. The lands eliminated lie mainly along the north and west sides of the Payson division and along the border of the Vernon division. Practically all the lands excluded from the Payson division are already alienated, while those excluded from the Vernon division contain a considerable number of sections adapted to grazing and dry farming. The portion of the latter division still retained as national forest territory is deemed valuable for water shed purposes, and it is demanded in the interest of a number of small ranches in the neighborhood. The transfer of the Vernon division to the Wasatch forest is a measure of convenience and economy in administration. The actual management has been for a year in the hands of the forest supervisor of the Wasatch at Salt Lake City.

The Wasatch forest losses by elimination approximately 1,440 acres, and gains approximately 8,713 acres, and by transfer from the Nebo forest approximately 54,240 acres. The eliminations consist of a narrow strip on the east side of the Grantsville division which comprises lands adapted to dry farming and a number of small, segregated sections east of Salt Lake City on the north end of the old Salt Lake forest. This region is so large as to be almost useless for forest purposes. No number of any value exists on any of these lands. The additions consist of a few isolated areas lying on the Salt Lake City watershed, several sections just south of the Grantsville division, covered with a heavy stand of juniper and pine, and an area of about 4,200 acres east of the city of Pleasant Grove. The latter area contains some merchantable timber, but were recommended for addition chiefly on account of their value in the protection of the water of Pleasant Grove. On this addition no grazing fee will be charged during the present year, and the grazing privileges of those who have been regularly using the area will be carefully guarded.

The unappropriated portions of the area excluded by these proclamations will be restored to settlement and entry after having been advertised in the local papers by the secretary of the interior.

CROOKED WORK IN CHICAGO COURTS

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Declaring from the bench that "crooked work is being done," Judge Kersten today dismissed a panel of 100 veniremen called in the case of the retrial of Lee O'Neill Browne.

Swan Dahlberg, one of the panel, declared that some one had spoken to him of the case. Judge Kersten ordered an investigation and expressed the opinion that all the veniremen had been approached. He refused to lay the blame on either side.

State's attorney Wayman hotly refuted the declaration that veniremen had been approached in the interest of some third party involved in the case, saying the defense has been systematically approaching veniremen.

Judge Kersten, questioning the veniremen separately, asked them if they had been approached. Nearly every one answered "Yes." All were taken to the state's attorney's office.

COST OF FIGHTING FOREST FIRES IS $7,000 A DAY.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Because of the serious forest fire situation in the northwest Glacier Park in Montana, Acting Secretary Pierce of the interior department, today required Chief Clerk Ucker, who now is in the Yellowstone National Park on a tour of inspection, to go to the new park and assist Supervisor Logan in handling the situation. Because of the extensive acreage, it is difficult for one man to supervise the fighting of the fires.

The cost of fighting the fires on the national forests in the Missouri district, comprising Montana, Northern Idaho, and Wyoming, is $7,000 a day, according to estimates received by the forest service here.

This will create a deficit in the appropriation of $125,000 made at the last session of congress for fighting forest fires. It is believed here that the situation will be materially relieved until the advent of rain.

A STEAMER GOES DOWN

Sinks After a Collision, and 39 Persons Are Drowned

Gibraltar, Aug. 16.—The Spanish steamer Martos foundered this morning off Tarifa, at the entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar, after a collision with the German steamer Elsa.

Thirty-nine persons were drowned, of which 32 were passengers. The survivors were landed here.

A dense fog prevailed at the time of the collision. Nine of the victims were first cabin passengers. The other 23 passengers who perished were in the steerage. The bow of the Elsa was stove in by the collision, and her fore peak filled quickly with water. The steamer, however, managed to keep afloat.

The Martos was a small steamer of 1,046 tons net, engaged in the coasting traffic. She was built at Dundee, Scotland, in 1883, and was 234 feet long. Her port of registry was Valencia, Spain.

The Elsa, a German tramp steamer, registering only 494 tons, is even smaller. She sailed from Abo, a river port on the Niger, in Africa, on July 20 for Valencia, and was last reported passing Gibraltar on August 3.

BUSY SCENE ON LINCOLN AVENUE

The foreman for the construction of the track on Lincoln avenue for the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company states that within the next ten days the track will be completed as far north as Twenty-fourth street.

At such time as being taken in the construction of the road, the company aiming to make it the best laid road in the city. The foundation is being laid in cement six inches deep. The rails are of the same weight as those placed on the road between Ogden and Salt Lake and the ties are of the best quality.

The corner of Twenty-fifth street and Lincoln avenue is a busy scene today through the operation of the Bamberger people, and the work that is being prosecuted on the Marion hotel. Cement workers were placed in the pit of the new hotel, the teams "squaring the walls" having finished enough of the basement to enable the concrete men to begin their operations.

Aside from laying additional track, to continue the road to Twenty-fourth street, so as to hold the right of way over Lincoln avenue, the Bamberger company is improving its depot building by finishing the baggage room and building a porch over the west entrance of the depot building. The porch will rest upon concrete pillars and will otherwise be made solid and attractive.

The David Maule business block, near the Bamberger depot, is being pushed along rapidly, the brick masons now having begun operations on the third story.

DANNY GOODMAN KNOCKED DOWN

Memphis, Aug. 16.—Danny Goodman of Chicago, after having a good lead in the first round, ran into a wild swing of "kid" Farmer of Peoria, Illinois, and was knocked down and almost out at the Phoenix Athletic club, last night. He was game and staggered to his feet only to be knocked down again and almost through the ropes. The crowd yelled to Referee Haack to stop the fight, but the bell sounded with Goodman on the floor. In the third round he came back dazed and groggy and after another knockdown the referee stopped the fight.

ONE LIED AND THE OTHER TOLD UNTRUTHS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16.—That President Walker of Illinois had lied and international President Lewis had told untruths was the substance of Lewis' statement and Walker's reply, respectively, in the special international convention of the miners here today.

Lewis at the outset was interrupted, but after rapping the convention to order and insisting upon being heard, he was given close attention.

After reviewing the Chicago nation (testified that he signed the McMurray contracts. He had urged others to sign, but he never had been induced to do so by McMurray.

CANNON STARTS ON HIS CAMPAIGN.

Danville, Ills., Aug. 16.—Speaker Cannon opens the campaign in this district tomorrow when he delivers a speech at a meeting of settlers at Clissa Park, Iroquois county.

Mr. Cannon said today he would discuss politics, but not make up his mind what to say until he had "looked over the crowd."

Congressman McKinley and Boutell called on the speaker last night.

BULL FIGHT IS TO BE STOPPED

Chicago, August 16.—A genuine bull fight announced by the Ridge Country Club as the leading feature of its annual fair, which will be held on Friday and Saturday, has attracted the attention of the authorities in the village of Morgan Park, near which the proposed bull fight is advertised to be held.

"No such spectacle shall be given or advertised in my jurisdiction," said Mayor Ney of Morgan Park. "I shall even refuse to permit posters of the bullfight to be displayed here."

Nevertheless the promoters of the affair in the Ridge Country club insist that they would be able to hold the bull fight on a schedule time in spite of the authorities.

The posters which Mayor Ney refused to allow displayed in Morgan Park have a brilliant colored picture of a mounted matador. The reading matter is as follows:

"No need to go to Spain to see a bull fight. The Ridge Country club, regardless of expense, will have the real thing. An imported, ramping, ferocious Andalusian bull—you will hear him roaring on the grounds."

"No police interference."

"Beautiful women, Spanish costumes, toreros, matadors, Espadas, rebosas, hilos, hermanas, frijoles."

PRISONERS ARE BEING MISTREATED

New Orleans, Aug. 16.—A special report from Spanish Honduras, dated August 10, says:

"Advices from Ceiba, Honduras, state that several prisoners were brought in here from Armenia, a point thirty miles west of here, where a large number of Bonilla supporters gathered last week to await General Lee Christmas."

One of them brought in today was Adolfo Merceda, a lawyer of considerable prominence, who was once judge at Transilla, but whose sympathies lie with the Bonilla revolutionaries very strongly. He was made to walk the entire distance of thirty miles with his arms tied behind his back, fording a river and climbing steep inclines, going through places where a man with free arms some times has difficulty in passing. Another prisoner, an old man, was marched through the streets of Ceiba with his thumbs tied behind his back.

MAN CUT WITH A RAZOR SCREAMS

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 16.—Running screaming through the streets with a cross cut on each cheek and one on his chin, Tony Mossa was arrested last night. The cuts had been made by a razor and completely penetrated his cheeks. He told the police that they were the avengers' signs of a secret order to which he had belonged and accused Teo Merceda, a fellow countryman, with being his assailant.

Merceda was arrested later, but the police were unable to get any coherent statement from either man. The victim of the vendetta, appeared frightened at having said so much, and obstinately refused to give any further information. Both men were held.

VICE RESIDENT SHERMAN OPPOSED TO BIG FEES

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 16.—Attempts to show that the government was justified in delaying the sale of $30,000,000 worth of Indian land in Oklahoma, occupied the congressional committee in the investigation of the McMurray contracts today.

Testimony was given that it would have been impossible for the government to sell out the land and distribute the money among the Indians as speedily as J. F. McMurray had promised on a 10 per cent attorneys' fee basis.

Representative C. D. Carter of Oklahoma was recalled and asked:

"What is your opinion of Vice President Sherman in matters pertaining to Indian affairs?"

"He has always shown an interest in the Indian," Carter replied.

"What was his (Sherman's) attitude toward large fees?"

"He was opposed to them."

"It had been asserted in previous testimony that Mr. Sherman had expressed emphatically his disapproval of the 10 per cent fee."

Representative C. H. Burke, chairman of the investigating committee, pointed out to the witnesses that much of the government's alleged delay in selling the land was due to the failure of the Indians to take their shares of the allotted land.

Douglas H. Johnson, chief of what is known as the Chickasaw nation, testified that he signed the McMurray contracts.
